

Princeton Athens Center Workshop
Mediterranean Colonial Landscapes

Organized by Princeton University in collaboration with the Landscape Archaeology Research Group (GIAP) of the Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology (ICAC)

Dates

July 13–14, 2022

Venue

Princeton Athens Center for Research and Hellenic Studies, 3 Timarchou Street, 116 34 Athens

Organisers

Marc Domingo Gygax (Director of the Program in the Ancient World, Princeton University)

Josep Maria Palet (Director of the Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology)

Sponsors

Princeton International Fund (IF)

Seeger Center for Hellenic Studies

PROGRAM

Wednesday, July 13th

Welcome and Introduction:

9:00h: Marc Domingo Gygax (Princeton University). Introduction

PAPERS

Metropolises, colonies and colonial landscapes, the Greek and Phoenician processes

9:30h: Paysages ruraux, territoires et occupation du sol en Eivissa et Formentera puniques

- Elodie Guillon (Université de Toulouse - Jean Jaurès)

10:15h: The foundation of Greek settlements in Cilicia Pedias and Cilicia Tracheia from the Early Iron Age to the Classical Period: a geospatial perspective

- Konstantinos Kopanias and Dimitrios Papageorgiou (Kapodistrian University of Athens)

11:30h: The Ionian foundations of Abdera: developing a multidisciplinary approach to explore the construction of colonial landscapes in the Mediterranean

- Merkourios Georgiadis, Arnau Garcia-Molsosa and Alfredo Mayoral and Hèctor Orengo (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology), Ana Ejarque (ISEM, Université de Montpellier, CNRS), Eurydice Kefalidou (National and Kapodistrian University of Athens) and Constantina Kallintzi (Eforia of Antiquities at Xanthi)

12:15h: Understanding the role of Late Archaic antefixes at Abdera, Thrace

- Daniela Stoyanova (Department of Archeology at Sofia University St. Kliment Ohridski), K. Chatziprokopiou, C. Kallintzi (Eforia of Antiquities at Xanthi), M. Georgiadis, A. Garcia (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology), E. Kefalidou (National and Kapodistrian University of Athens)

15:00h: Rural settlement dynamics in a colonial homeland: insights into the Milesian peninsula from the Project Panormos Survey

- Toby C. Wilkinson (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology) Anja Slawisch (University of Edinburgh) and Néhémie Strupler (Freie Universität Berlin)

15:45h: Reconstructing the ancient land division of Tauric Chersonesos with the aid of remote sensing, epigraphy and historic maps

- Tatiana N. Smekalova, Edgar Terekhin, B.W. Bevan (National Research Center-Kurchatov Institute, Moscow, Belgorod State University & Geosight, VA)

16:30h: Discussion

Thursday, July 14th

Ancient colonial processes in the palaeoenvironmental record

9:30h: Colonial transported landscapes in the palaeoenvironmental record: change, adaptation and heritages at the hinterland of Emporion

- Ana Ejarque (ISEM, Université de Montpellier, CNRS)

10:15h: Cultural development in central Italy since the Roman Period, historical ecology and landscape transformations

- Scott Mensing and Edward M. Schoolman (University of Nevada, Reno)

The colonies of the victor, landscapes of the Roman expansion

11:30h: Environmental impacts of Early Roman Colonization in the Pontine region, Central Italy

- Tymon de Haas (University of Groningen)

12:15h: Landscape organization in the Western zone of Hispania Citerior Tarraconensis: the example of the territory of Bracara Augusta (Braga, North of Portugal)

- Helena Paula de Carvalho (Universidade do Minho)

15:00h: Roman Centuriation and landscape dynamics: conception and interactions inferred from North-Eastern Hispania Tarraconensis

- Josep Maria Palet (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology)

15:45h: Roman colonial landscapes beyond centuriation: production, resistance and integration

- Hector A. Orengo (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology)

17:00h: Colonial economies of the Roman empire: long-distance spice trade as a proxy

- Alexandra Livarda (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology)

17:45h: Final discussion and conclusions